These days, I'm making a list of places for the visitor. At the moment, I'm taking some photo of the places near my home. For famous wildlife areas like Maharloo Lake, I'll have to download the photos and other information from the Internet. There's a zoo around the town in which tourists can see some animals, such as wolf, black bears, and Persian Leopards. I think the book will be ready by next november. And I really hope the tourists will find it useful and hopefully, they'll enjoy their stay here in my Country. 21. .... → .....                      22. .... → ..... 23. .... → .....                      24. .... → ..... 25. .... → .....                      26. .... → ..... | ۷ |

We can divide wild animals based on where they live. While some wild animals like monkeys and tigers live in the jungle, others live in the desert. Snakes, types of mice and lizards are all desert animals. Animals like zebras and leopards live in the grasslands. And of course, fish, turtles and sharks are sea animals. Jungles, deserts, grasslands and seas are natural homes, or natural habitats of different wild animals.

All the animals live well together in their natural habitats. That doesn't mean they don't hunt other animals. They all get what they need from their habitats. Still, they are part of nature. Each animal plays a role in its natural home. And they don't destroy nature.
